FREE Games Event

The Multiply Team invite you and your family and to join them at a free games event and have fun playing games with family and friends who also have Down's syndrome. There will also be a light supper during the evening.

Games are a fantastic way to use mathematical thinking and have fun at the same time.

The Multiply Team will also talk to you about what you think about maths and find out if you would like to get better at using maths in everyday activities e.g. cooking, going out with friends, shopping.

Join them to play, eat and have fun!
